MAE WEST IS ON HER WAY TO IVORYTON

Mae West accompanied by fourteen handsome gentlemen is on her way to Ivoryton Playhouse. It will be the last bill of the season and probably the gayest. (Aug. 25th) The play, "Come On Up . . . Ring Twice" was, of course, written for Miss West. It has played to capacity houses all over the stock circuit this summer and the advance sale here in Ivoryton is so great that we strongly suggest that our regular patrons make their reservations at once.

Then too, both Miss West and Mr. Stiefel have a treat in store for the playhouse audiences this week. At the end of every performance Miss West receives on stage. Miss West likes people, especially her fans and she is never too tired to greet them and sign autographs. It is said that she gives away more autographed pictures than any other actress today. So during the week she is here, everyone is invited to meet this famous lady who sincerely wants to greet her many friends.

Many friends of the Playhouse have asked for our former House Manager and Box Office Treasurer Teddy Antczak, who entered the Army last May. Teddy is now stationed near Bordeaux, France. He has been made a Corporal and he quite enjoys his army job as Mess Corporal. He reports that he doesn't get too many complaints about his cooking. He further says he has learned a great deal. He writes many letters and tells of his travels all over Europe. It seems that when he gets time off he takes short trips to places of interest. He has been to Rome and several cities in Spain and many other places. His letters are interesting but we will be glad when he gets home to work with the Playhouse next season.
